Baltimore, Md.

Private access

The majority of houses along the west side of this block of Patapsco St. are small, two story, two bay wide gable-roofed brick houses built in the '1850's to provide inexpensive housing for the growing numbers of new workers arriving in the area, many of whom were recent immigrants. A number of these houses have recently been renovated and now serve a mixed commercial/residential use. 1000 Patapsco St. has been remodeled as a two story, shed roofed house with bracketed cornice; 1026 and 1042 Patapsco St. are two story plus attic, two bay wide brick houses. The houses along Patapsco St. were generally built by the owners of the houses located on the western sections of the lots, facing on S. Charles St.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This two story plus attic brick house with gable roof was built in the 1850's and formed part of a group of gable roofed houses extending along this side of Patapsco St.

The house is two and a half stories in height, 12 1/2' wide, and occupies a lot 50' deep. The house is two rooms deep and there are no rear additions. The house is constructed in common bond. The low-pitched gable roof has a two-tier brick cornice. There is a hooded chimney located along both the front and rear roof gables along the north side of the house.

All of the window openings have flat wood lintels and wood sills. The first and second floor window openings are filled with 1/1 double hung sash; the attic story window openings are filled with new 3/3 sash. There is a multi-light glass and panel door set beneath a single light transom which has been filled with a new carved wood panel. The house sits on a fairly high basement, the entrance being reached by three stone steps. A rectangular basement opening is located beneath the first floor window.

BUILDER/ARCHITECT Gotfrid Hoernig ?

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This house seems to have been built by the owner/occupant of 1031 S. Charles St., and then like most houses along this side of Patapsco St., rented by Hoernig to a variety of tenants. Although an extra half story in height taller than its neighbors, this house is a typical small alley house designed for rental to newly arrived (often immigrant) working class families. The house has recently been restored.
